

COOKIE POLICY

By continuing to use the MyCPD website (www.mycpd.ie) you consent to our use of cookies.

A “Cookie” is information that a website sends to your web browser that helps the website remember information about you and your preferences. You can set your browser to accept all cookies, to reject all cookies, or to notify you whenever a cookie is offered so that you can decide each time whether to accept it.

However, to function properly, the MyCPD website needs to be able to store cookies on your computer. If you configure your browser to reject cookies from MyCPD, you will not be able to log in to the MyCPD website.

As you navigate through our website, certain anonymous information can be passively collected (that is, gathered without you actively providing the information) using various technologies, such as cookies, internet tags or web beacons, and navigational data collection (log files and server logs). Your internet browser automatically transmits to our website some of this anonymous information, such as the URL of the website you just came from and the Internet Protocol (“IP”) address and the browser version your computer is currently using.

A “Session” cookie is temporary information that is used to improve navigation. They are erased once you exit your web browser or otherwise turn off your computer.

A “Persistent” cookie is permanent information that is placed on the hard drive of your computer and remains there unless you delete the cookie. Persistent cookies store information on your computer for a number of purposes, such as retrieving certain information you have previously provided (such as passwords) and customising the website based on your preferences on an ongoing basis. Persistent cookies used by MyCPD on your computer relate to the modules taken and may hold personally identifiable information.

You may set your browser to notify you when a cookie is sent or to refuse cookies altogether, but be advised that the login feature of the MyCPD website will not work without cookies - if you block MyCPD cookies, you will not be able to log into the MyCPD website or access MyCPD e-learning content.
